

Grants...

Posted by Thenor - 2008/01/16 18:31

We are in the process of incorporating as a non profit... post Grant ideas below...
I also need people to look in to these <http://www.rolexawards.com>

=====

Re:Grants...

Posted by crossfire - 2008/01/16 19:24

So how's the advertisement campaign going. I was going to ask you how you felt about signing up with the ad clicks program. Maybe it would be prudent to further invest the current small earnings of the website back into itself.

Might help boost traffic some more. S'all about the hits!

=====

bukky institute challenge

Posted by Thenor - 2008/01/17 03:42

here is an idea <http://challenge.bfi.org/enter/>
100,000 prize... look in to it

=====

Re:bukky institute challenge

Posted by crossfire - 2008/01/17 11:14

says 2007

=====

Re:Grants...

Posted by Thenor - 2008/01/17 17:32

most of these are yearly awards ... we just need people to look for similar, or figure out what the SHIRE needs to do to acquire one. most require non profit status

<http://www.noyes.org/apply.html>
<http://www.kongsgaard-goldman.org/who>

Re:Grants...

Posted by LoDukeBear - 2008/02/04 21:43

tons of grants out there, what we need is someone who can commit to being our fundraiser, focusing on grants. its very important to know that the philanthropy world is made up of individuals and foundations who know each other and that reputation is important, we cant have people representing the S.H.I.R.E. without due support and clarity, but what we absolutely need is a compilation (RESEARCH) of grants, land, funding etc that the S.H.I.R.E. is eligible for in terms of the sections of the S.H.I.R.E. that we are developing (diversity is key, cant put all the eggs in one basket) -education, organic farming, fermentation, green technology, community development, etc.

Re:Grants...

Posted by nic - 2008/02/07 00:27

Perhaps people with technical knowledge in certain areas could be responsible for fundraising in that sector? Please if anybody has a sector of society that they feel they know well, don't wait...call up people and talk to them about S.H.I.R.E. I have talked to several green builders about the ideas, with good leads towards people interested in funding projects. This is my most effective angle and as I get more into it the more doors open.

A good thing to post is what the shire means from different angles. S.H.I.R.E can do many things for many people, but i don't think it is effective, for example, to try and fundraise from builders by talking farming. Equally, seed banks are probably interested in natural building, but they would be more likely to fund a project maintaining biodiversity. We can do both things because they are connected, but people like to talk about their passions.

Anybody else have a specialty they are passionate about that they can share?

Re:Grants...

Posted by nic - 2008/02/17 22:20

http://www.csrees.usda.gov/funding/rfas/nri_rfa.html

lotsa stuff here, just need to pitch it right.

Re:Grants...

Posted by Thenor - 2008/03/30 11:01

here is a place too look for $$

<https://www.nozasearch.com/Default.asp?gclid=CN3fh9KLtZICFRkyFQodJFVTQw>

Look here first

Posted by Thenor - 2008/06/04 14:16

hear is a great resources for grants. We can get these all we have to do is look, and apply our selves.

<http://www.cfda.gov/>

our first goal is to get a grant to run the eco blog and articles pages. We need funding to pay 2 people minimum, a publisher and editor. Both of these people will also be writing an article every other day. This will bump our publications to 5 time a week, with other added articles coming in from other sources.

Re:Grants...

Posted by Thenor - 2008/06/04 14:31

look hear too

<http://murray.senate.gov/grants/grantsstep1.cfm>

<http://www.npguides.org/index.html>

<http://www.idealists.org/tools/fundraising.html>

Re:Grants...

Posted by crossfire - 2008/06/20 03:44

Can we get a status update? Is anyone currently working on this? Can someone volunteer to work on this. We need to get some funding, so that people involved might be able to work full time on this stuff.

Lets step up people, there's a lot to be done and we need people to do it.

Re:Grants...

Posted by Thenor - 2008/11/14 11:46

a good possibility is the <http://www.rockfound.org/grants/grants.shtml>

Re:Grants...

Posted by FreyGrimrod - 2008/12/06 08:53

Just another brainstorming thought got a "customers choice community grant" voting form in the mail with my statement from a local bank their looking to give away 50k to a local 501c3 dunno if anything Similar is available where the S.H.I.R.E. is registered...

=====